The Agreement sets forth the provisions for opening and servicing the Account in accordance with the Agreement, General Terms and Conditions for Transactions, Fee Schedule, and other Bank-issued regulations binding upon Customer, and the applicable laws of the Republic of Latvia. The Terms and Conditions of the Agreement will apply to any current Account set up by Customer with Bank at the time the Agreement is entered into or during the life of the Agreement. The Accounts are set up for an unlimited period of time.

2.2. Account Opening and Maintenance

2.2.1. Under this Agreement, the Account may be set up in response to Customer's Application. The Account will be denominated and transactions through the Account will be conducted only in Bank's functional currencies (as specified in the Fee Schedule) in which Bank conducts payment transactions.

2.2.2. Originally, the Account is set up in the initial currencies as indicated by Customer. Any other currency (Bank's functional currency) will be set automatically as soon as the funds denominated in the respective foreign currency are credited to the Account.

2.3. Account Transactions

2.3.1. Fees are charged from the funds held in Customer's Accounts according to the Fee Schedule. If Customer's Accounts do not hold a sufficient balance in the currency in which the payment is to be made, Bank may convert, at its sole discretion, the funds held in Customer's Accounts to the required currency. If Customer's Accounts do not hold amounts sufficient to pay a fee, Bank is entitled, at its sole discretion, to deduct the Fee by putting the Account into a negative balance (otherwise known as a debit balance).

2.3.2. Bank is entitled to accept, without prior consent of Customer, any payment designated for the Account. Bank posts credit entries to the Account according to instructions contained in the Order. Bank has the right, but not the obligation, to credit the funds to Customer's Account by relying on the beneficiary's account number (specified in the payment order) only, if Bank detects inconsistency between the beneficiary's account number and account name. Bank is entitled to credit Customer's funds to Customer's account other than that specified in the payment order in cases where Customer's Account specified in the payment order is closed.

2.3.3. Bank will credit the funds to the Account in a currency in which the incoming payment is denominated only if the incoming payment is denominated in Bank's functional currency.

2.3.4. Bank will debit the Account (to pay out money, to transfer funds, to provide other banking service) only after receiving Customer's Order to make a payment within the limits of the available Account balance (maintained in credit) if the Account is not subject to any limitations and also in cases specified in cl. 2.4 hereof. The Account may not fall into the red/negative balance unless (i) the debit balance occurs in accordance with cl. 2.3.1 hereof; or (ii) the negative balance results from Card Loan granted to Customer. If Card Loan is granted, the Account may not fall into the red/negative balance exceeding the Credit Limit.

2.3.5. Customer acknowledges that Customer has been informed of the following fact: when a payment is remitted to any other Latvia-based credit institution, the beneficiary's bank may execute the payment by relying only on the beneficiary's account number as indicated in Customer's payment Order.

2.3.6. Bank accepts, approves for execution, executes or refuses to execute Customer's payment Order according to the procedure prescribed by this Agreement, the General Terms and Conditions for Transactions, and the applicable laws of the Republic of Latvia.

2.3.7 Customer has the obligation to keep track of all transactions in the Accounts and to file complaints concerning transactions, either executed or unexecuted, to Bank not later than within 30 (thirty) days following the date a certain transaction takes effect or after the proposed date for the transaction. Customer's failure to file complaints within the time frame specified hereunder will be construed as Customer's unambiguous approval of the transactions, either executed or unexecuted.

2.3.8. Bank has the right, but not the obligation, to unilaterally suspend outgoing transfers from the Accounts in the following cases: Customer fails to fulfil its obligations (under the Agreement/other agreement entered into between Bank and Customer or under the applicable laws of the Republic of Latvia) owed to Bank or Bank's member companies (undertakings belonging to the group); Bank has obtained information about Customer's (a private person) death; and/or Bank has doubt regarding the representative's entitlement to act (doubt as to whether Customer's representative has the power to act on Customer's behalf). Customer will assume full responsibility for the loss.

- 2.5.4. All the money and financial instruments (including improvements, additions, accessions and other subsequent increments upon them), which are held in or will be credited to Customer's Card accounts with Bank or to which Customer otherwise is entitled during the life of the Agreement, serve as financial collateral pledged to secure Customer's existing (and potential future obligations) owed to Bank (hereinafter referred to as the Financial Collateral) within the meaning of the Financial Collateral Act [Finanšu nodrošinājuma likums] of the Republic of Latvia. The Financial Collateral secures all Customer-owed obligations whose amount will be assessed at the time of selling the Financial Collateral, including all interest, penalty fees, expenses and losses to be incurred by Bank as a result of Customer's default (non-fulfilment of obligations) and the sale of the Financial Collateral.
- 2.5.5. If Customer fails to perform its obligations owed to Bank and/or Bank possesses the right of claim against Customer and /or any event or circumstance, as mentioned in the Terms and Conditions or any agreements concluded by Customer and Bank, occurs (resulting in that Bank may unilaterally terminate the Agreement or halt any transaction / refrain from executing any transaction), then Bank will be entitled to satisfy all its claims against Customer through selling the Financial Collateral. Bank may, at its sole discretion and according to the order (priority) and manner prescribed by Bank, without giving a prior notice (reminder letter) and without Customer's Order:
- 2.5.5.1. sell such a certain portion of the financial instruments held in the Financial instruments account at a free market price (including in Bank's favour) which will be sufficient to fully repay Customer's obligations owed to Bank, and
- 2.5.5.2. transfer /write off, in Bank's favour, the amount of money (held in any Customer's account with Bank or the money to which Customer otherwise is entitled) which will be sufficient to fully repay Customer's obligations owed to Bank.

Customer is obligated to notify all interested persons of the creation of the Financial Collateral in Bank's favour. Bank may enforce its right of possessory retention/lien over the Financial Collateral. Also, Bank may apply a 'blocking-of-funds procedure' whereby the Financial Collateral held in the accounts is earmarked and made unavailable for any transaction until Customer fulfils its obligations owed to Bank and/or until maturity date arrives, and/or until Bank sells the Financial Collateral.

Bank's or Customer's unilateral termination of the Card servicing/usage will not relieve and exempt Customer from the responsibility to properly fulfil Customer's financial obligations and will not reduce and affect any payments mentioned in the Agreement/Fee Schedule and having arisen during the validity period of the Card.

5.12.5. If Bank or Customer unilaterally terminates to service/use the Card, or Customer, who is not a Consumer, Bank will not refund the Annual Card Fee (previously paid to Bank by Customer). If Customer is a Consumer, Bank will refund the Annual Card Fee (previously paid to Bank by Customer) proportionately to the period of time during which (till the end of the current year) the Card will no longer be used. Card Issuance Fee is not refunded to Customers.

5.12.6. If all Cards are closed for the Client, then the Card Account to which the Cards have been attached is automatically closed, if the Client has fulfilled all obligations and the Card Account has no balance.

5.13. Card Overdraft Bonus

5.13.1. Card Overdraft Bonus (the right to use the service) may be assigned to Customer on the basis of Customer's Application submitted to Bank for review and consideration.

5.13.2. If Bank agrees to the provisions specified in the Card Overdraft Bonus Application, Bank signs the Application, and the Application constitutes an integral part of this Agreement. From that moment, Customer is eligible to request Card Overdraft Bonus.

5.13.3. To request Card Overdraft Bonus and prove its identity, Customer uses Remote Banking Services (RBSs) and adheres to these Terms and Conditions (Section 4 hereof).

5.13.4. Bank may refuse, without stating any reason, to assign Card Overdraft Bonus or reduce, at any time, the amount of the assigned but unutilised Card Overdraft Bonus, or to repay it. Bank will notify Customer of Bank's refusal to assign Card Overdraft Bonus and reduction or repayment of the assigned but unutilised Card Overdraft Bonus.

5.13.5. Total amount of Bank-assigned and outstanding (non-repaid) Card Overdraft Bonuses may not exceed the overall limit imposed by Bank and stated in the Card Overdraft Bonus Application, irrespective of whether the Bonuses have been spent.

5.13.7. Card Overdraft Bonus is intended for urgent Card Transactions.

5.13.8. Card Overdraft Bonus is considered spent (fully or partially) at the moment when Customer commences Card payments within the limit of the Card Overdraft Bonus.

5.13.9. Customer is obligated to fully repay to Bank spent Card Overdraft Bonus within 3 (three) calendar days after the Bonus has been assigned. Regardless of whether Customer has spent the Card Overdraft Bonus (fully or partially) or not, Bank will cancel the Card Overdraft Bonus on the 4th (fourth) calendar day after the Card Overdraft Bonus has been assigned.

5.13.10. To calculate the interest, Bank uses the same annual interest rate as specified in the Fee Schedule and used to calculate interest for Card Credit Limit exceed. The interest is calculated on the basis of a 360-day year and the actual number of calendar days in each month. The interest calculated for a calendar month is deducted from the Card Account on the last banking day of the respective calendar month.

If the unauthorised negative balance in the Card Account is not cleared by the Setoff Date, Customer must pay Late Fee calculated on the amount in arrears, using the annual interest rate as specified in the Fee Schedule. On the last calendar day of every calendar month, Late Fee (calculated for a calendar month) is deducted from the Card Account, thus increasing the unauthorised negative balance in the Card Account. Customer must immediately clear the unauthorised negative balance.

5.13.12. To repay any of Card Overdraft Bonuses, as spent and overdue, Bank may, without giving Customer a prior notice, deduct the required amount (fully or partially) from any account held by Customer with Bank by transferring the required amount from any Customer's account with Bank. If necessary, Bank may convert the funds (if the funds available in the account are denominated in other currency) into the Card Account currency according to Bank's General Currency Exchange Rate effective at the time of the conversion.
